

Rebecca E. Skeele

Wisdom Teacher, Sacred Ambition Mentor, Speaker & Author

"To be fulfilled as well as successful you must express who you are courageously, follow your sacred calling devotedly and embrace your sacred power and ambition graciously." - Rebecca Skeele

“Manifesting a mission or big vision is an emergent process. Don’t be in a hurry.”

- Rebecca Skeelee

Mission-driven leaders, visionaries and world servers have a calling to make a major impact for change at the same time they are serving the greater good. But just manifesting their mission is not enough to create inner fulfillment. Rebecca Skeelee believes that to be fulfilled is the ‘real’ mission of a visionary or world server and fulfillment comes from showing up authentically and not hiding or playing small.

The bright shiny objects of success can create stress, burn out, impatience and fear of not measuring up. Rebecca knows that when the inner foundation is one of abundance, inner wealth, peace, joy and self-acceptance then all areas of life: finances, relationships, health, spiritual growth and career are up leveled. Rebecca believes we can do well AND do good.

The 4 Poverties of Today's Working Woman

How they sap energy and joy and what you can do about it

Women mission-driven entrepreneurs and business owners are more stressed today than ever. We are run ragged trying to compensate for the poverty in our lives that feels out of control: The poverty of time; The poverty of well-being; the poverty of self-care and the Poverty of Empowerment.

This presentation gives women a fresh approach and tools to clear away limiting beliefs and fears and tap into their personal Source of resilient loving and clear seeing. The results are renewed energy, enthusiasm and inspired action.

"This was definitely an opportunity for me to listen to spirit. The simplest statements changed everything for me. My whole perspective about my work in the world and how I run my business completely changed in just a few small exercises. It was magical."

- Wellness Entrepreneur, Albuquerque, NM

The Imposter Mindset

Your Mission or Big Vision Needs YOU to Show Up

An imposter mindset has nothing to do with you or your mission/vision being pie in the sky. It has to do with your false self.

Rebecca will help you identify this imposter false self and teach the tools to follow your True self, take control and manifest your BIG work with greater impact and effectiveness.

It's Time to Come Out of Hiding

For Mission Driven Visionaries, Leaders & World Servers

Many of us often wake up with a hidden fear that someday we will be found out as imposters who don't have what it takes.

This presentation will introduce simple and practical ways to begin to build a new foundation inside. From this new inner solid foundation you can grow in

"Rebecca's processes have a way of really shifting and transforming. It has a way of making you reveal to yourself who you are and what you care about." - Theta Healer, Albuquerque, NM
